Gymkhanna Day Set For Oct. 8

The New Lenox riding club will present its 1961 Gymkhanna "playday on horseback" show, Sunday, Oct. 8 at the 4-H fair grounds on Francis road.

Schedule of events will start at 10:00 a.m. Entry fees has been set at $1.00 per event for junior classes and $2 per event for all others. Trophies and five ribbons will be awarded in each of the 14 events.

Students whose scores on the final test substantiate their performance on the qualifying test and who are endorsed by their high schools become finalists. All finalists get a Certificate of Merit in recognition of their performance.

As finalists students are eligible for scholarship awards sponsored by about 13 business corporations, foundations, associations, individuals and the National Merit Corporation itself. About 97% of the finalists become finalists, the records show.

High school grades, extra-curricular activities, school citizenship and leadership of the students will be evaluated along with their scores on the tests of Dec. 2. The names of the Merit Scholars will be announced about April 26.

Each Merit Scholarship is a four-year award to cover the undergraduate college years. The recipient's stipend is tailored to fit his needs. Stipends now average about $800 a year. Merit Scholars in need of assistance can get a maximum of $1,500 a year. For students who already possess resources that will enable them to attend the college of their choice, awards of $100 a year are granted. The colleges chosen by the Merit Scholars in most instances receive supplementary grants ranging up to $500 a year to help defray the actual costs of edu-

Equinox Brings Wind, Rain, Hail, Floods To Area

The switch from summer to fall last week was accomplished by equinoctial storms and made a weekend that caused considerable discomfort, inconvenience and some damage in the area.

Rains and wind struck Friday afternoon and the rains continued for the most part thru Monday, flooding highways, basements and causing creeks to rise over their banks. The average rain fall in the area from Friday afternoon to early Monday afternoon ranged from six to seven inches.

Tornadic winds with rain and hail cut a half-mile swath thru the Manhattan-Mokena area Friday evening and Dennis Ronan, radio operator for state police who resides in Arby Hills, Marley road, northwest of Mokena, reported seeing a funnel cloud around 2 a.m. Saturday morning in the vicinity of his home. Ronan and his wife said the cloud was "silhouetted by lightning."

This cloud is said to have touched down in the vicinity of the Hilltop theater, snapping off the tops of several trees.

Everett Heatherwick, who operates an implement business bearing his name on U.S. 45 near the Mokena-Manhattan road, is quoted as saying that on the Harold Swansberg farm the wind "sucked the pods right off the beans." Two large forage boxes at the Heatherwick store were destroyed.

Swansberg also lost a shed and at the Harold Scheer farm the garage was picked up and slammed against a tree. Seventy acres of corn were reported flattened on the Burton Barr farm, four miles east of Manhattan, and 30 acres of beans destroyed by hail.

On the George and Lester Baker farm, four miles east of Manhattan, a 36 by 56 garage with a 14-foot lean-to was twisted off its foundations, an old cattle shed demolished, 90 acres of corn lost and a number of hens killed.

At the Albert Hillar farm the hail shelled the beans in the field. The path of destruction appeared to have begun at the Gene Gallagher farm on Cedar road, about a mile south and half a mile east of Manhattan. The beans were riddled there. The storm moved on, passing thru a portion of Green Garden.

Hickory creek left its banks in Mokena and New Lenox and in sections of Joliet. At New Lenox the flood surrounded the New Lenox Lumber company and swirled thru the yard but did not get into the store section. This is the fourth flood to hit this property.

New Lenox firemen and CD members kept on the alert Saturday night and were ready to perform rescue work if needed. The John Lajchin family declined to leave their home which is on Oak street near the creek bank. Later they could not have unless they had been taken out in a boat because the house was surrounded by water.

There was eight inches of water over Cedar road in the vicinity of the creek. Several persons reported flooded basements. There were complaints too of flood conditions in the vicinity of Second ave. and Pine st.

Sections of U. S. 6 between Marley and the junction of that thoroughfare and Wolf road were under water until Monday night. West of Wolf road on 143rd street traffic had to detour because of the depth of water on the road.

The ground appeared to be so saturated that the water just stood. It seemed to have no place to run and couldn't soak in.

In Frankfort a number of basements were flooded. Too much roof water going into sanitary sewer lines, it was said. Roof water is not supposed to be turned into sanitary sewers, according to state law.

There was some basement flooding at Orland Park and when the rains were heavy the streets coming down the hills looked like mill races. Much of the water at Orland Park drains into the slough that is part of the forest preserve and the journey doesn't take long.

Right now with the installation of sewer mains going on at Orland Park the rains made some of the streets quite muddy. The rains also have held up work on the project, the ground being too wet.

Last year this region, as well as other sections of Illinois was deficient in moisture but that will not be the case this year. The average annual rainfall in the area is 32.75 inches. So far the precipitation for September is approximately 12 inches. In some places in the area the total is more, in some it is slightly less. According to the weather bureau this is the wettest September on record in these parts.

2 L-W Students In Natl. Merit Scholarship Finals

Two Lincoln-Way seniors, James Lakin, of New Lenox, and Michael Tate, of Frankfort, have been named semi-finalists in the 1961-62 National Merit Scholarship competition and will be among the nation's top 10,000 high school students who will compete in the final tests Dec. 2.

Lincoln-Way superintendent, A. Hunter Chapman was quite proud of the achievements of the two youths plus the fact that Lincoln-Way has two students who reached the finals. Fifteen thousand schools representing all of the states and territories of the U. S. had students in the qualifying examinations last March.

Paul Mlakar, another senior from New Lenox received honorable mention.

The semi-finalists were selected from this group and they are described as the highest scoring students in the nation. Each semi-finalist now moves a step closer to winning a four-year Merit scholarship to the college of his choice.

To increase their opportunities to obtain financial aid if they need it, the Merit Corporation sends the names of all semi-finalists to all accredited colleges and universities and to other scholarship-granting agencies and financial aid sources. It is said that about 50% of the semi-finalists obtain scholarship assistance from sources other than the merit program.

Students whose scores on the final test substantiate their performance on the qualifying test and who are endorsed by their high schools become finalists. All finalists get a Certificate of Merit in recognition of their performance.

As finalists students are eligible for scholarship awards sponsored by about 13 business corporations, foundations, associations, individuals and the National Merit Corporation itself. About 97% of the finalists become finalists, the records show.

High school grades, extra-curricular activities, school citizenship and leadership of the students will be evaluated along with their scores on the tests of Dec. 2. The names of the Merit Scholars will be announced about April 26.

Death Takes Husband Of Tinley Editor

Alex S. Rodger, 58, of 6636 Parkside drive, Tinley Park, died suddenly at his home early Tuesday morning.

He had suffered a heart attack last May but his condition apparently had been improving steadily and had resumed his duties as a salesman with the Tinley Park Realty Co. He apparently was feeling in good health Monday evening and after dinner went out on a business call. He apparently was still feeling well when he retired.

About 1 o'clock he awakened and complained of finding it difficult to breathe. The fire department inhalator was summoned by the time it could arrive it was too late.

Mr. Rodger was born at Kilmarnock, Scotland, in 1903 and when he was eight years old came to the United States with his family. He attended grade and high school at Taylorville, Ill., and was graduated from the University of Illinois. He was active in athletics during his high school and college years and it was an interest that never waned.

He worked for Pullman Standard and the Ford company as an accountant for 20 years. He came to Tinley Park in 1954.

His wife, Ann Rodger, is editor of the Tinley Park Times. Besides Mrs. Rodger the survivors include three sons, Robert, Bruce and Ronald; five sisters, Mrs. Susan Templeton, Mrs. Christina McCauley, Mrs. Margaret Rogers and Mrs. Wilhelmina Braske, all of Chicago, and Mrs. Florence Reber, of Decatur, Ind., and one brother, Robert, of Springfield, Ill.

Removal was to the Hirsch chapel where services are to be held at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon (Thursday) with the Rev. Dallas Mucci, pastor of the Tinley Park Church of the Nazarene, officiating. Interment will be in Cedar Park cemetery, 127th and Halsted, Chicago.

Death Claims Ida Priami Of Frankfort

Mrs. Ida Priami, 65 years old of Frankfort, died Saturday Sept. 23 in the home of her daughter Mrs. Robert (Katherine) Fredin 100 Pacific st., following a lingering illness.

Born in Ruota, Italy on July 6, 1896, Mrs. Priami was a resident of Frankfort for the past 40 years. She and her husband Joseph operated a restaurant and confectionery business in Frankfort in 1921. After his death in 1942, Mrs. Priami continued as the proprietor.

In addition to her daughter, she is survived by one sister, three brothers and three grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Monday morning, Sept. 25 from West End funeral home, Chicago Heights with the Rev. Eric Bizer, pastor of St. Peter's United Church of Christ, officiating.

Pays $150 Fine

James E. Pedersen 19, of Joliet, was fined $150 by Police Magistrate Ronald Whitaker, of New Lenox, last week, after pleading guilty to a charge of reckless driving. He also paid $6 costs.

Pedersen was driving on Francis rd. on Sept. 9, according to the report of State Trooper James Brockman, when he apparently lost control of his car and went off the road. The car rolled and tore down a long section of fence along the farm owned by John Matasovic.

Pedersen escaped with minor injuries.

Dolores Kiedaisch, secretary; Mrs. Belva Holleman, publicity chairman; Mrs. Jeanette Vredenburg, congress publications; Mrs. Margaret Wimmier, hospitality co-chairman and Mrs. Doris Peterson program chairman.

Sharon Landau Is Bride Of J. G. Stankus

The Methodist Peace Temple at Benton Harbor, Mich., provided the setting for the wedding of Miss Sharon Landau and John Gary Stankus, Friday, Sept. 15 at one o'clock in the afternoon.

The Rev. James Moores officiated at the double ring ceremony which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Landau of Frankfort and Mrs. Darrel Jones of Bourbonnais, Illinois.

Vases of mums and gladioli festooned the altar of the church, and traditional wedding selections were sung by Mrs. Dean Betz who was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Don Peters. Miss Marilyn Bormet served as candlelighter.

Escorted up the aisle by her uncle, Alvin C. Sippel, the bride wore a floor length gown of chantilly lace and nylon tulle over white taffeta, fashioned with a fitted bodice and a sweetheart neckline trimmed with beads and sequins. Her fingertip veil was held in place with a Juliet cap. Her only jewelry, cultured pearl necklace and earrings, was a gift from the groom. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Myrtle Klier, maid of honor, chose a ballerina length gown of aqua silk organza fashioned with a bustle effect bow and a rounded neckline. A matching stand up crown with a blusher veil completed her outfit. She carried a bouquet of aqua tinted carnations.

Henry Diment attended the bridegroom as best man.

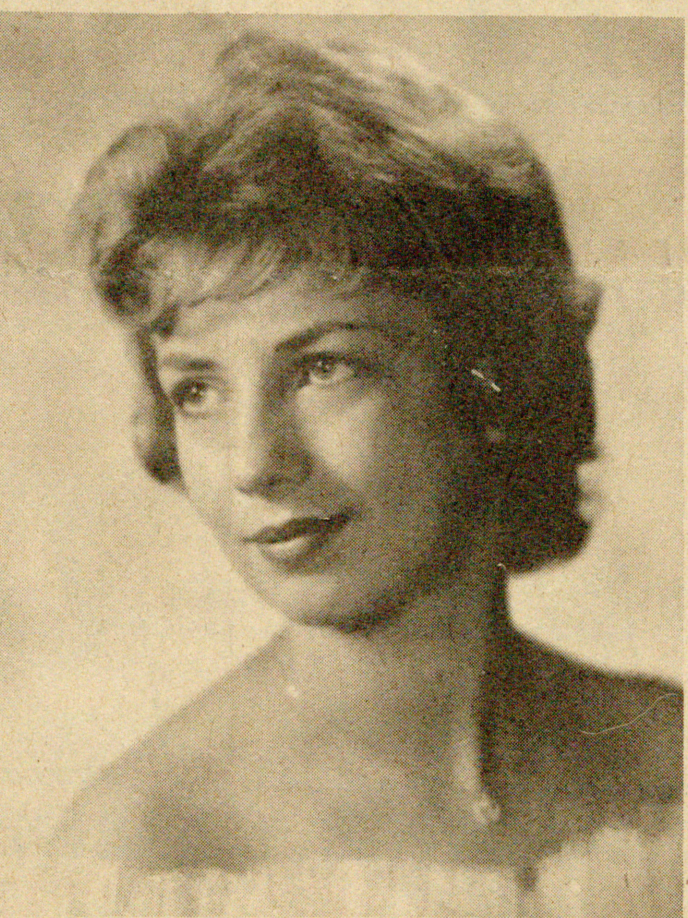

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Landau was attired in a street length gown of turquoise lace and nylon tulle over taffeta with beige accessories. To complete her outfit she wore a white orchid corsage.

The wedding reception was held the following evening in Saenger hall ballroom, Tinley Park, to which some 300 guests attended. Mrs. Alvin Sippel, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Joseph Stankus Jr., aunt of the groom, served the wedding cake, while Miss Janice Reimers and Miss Jane Rehberg were in charge of the guest book.

The newlyweds entrained for Norfolk, Va. where the groom is stationed with the U.S. Navy. They will take up residency at 569 West Ocean View avenue, Norfolk.

The Upper Room

Read Matthew 23: 1-12

We know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose. (Romans 8:28.)

In my home town in Argentina, we used one of the rooms of an old two-roomed house as a sanctuary for worship. It proved too small for the congregation. We decided to enlarge it by tearing down the partition.

There was not enough money to hire men for this job. Therefore, some men of the congregation gave of their time and work to do it. Many of the women did their share by painting the ceiling and walls and cleaning the floor. Thus both men and women took part in changing the interior of our place of worship.

At the same time we were doing something for our church, we had a chance to get much better acquainted with one another. By this experience we have improved the worshipful atmosphere of our church and deepened our feeling of brotherhood in Christ.

PRAYER: Our Father, we thank Thee for every opportunity we have to do something in Thy name. We rejoice in having many and varied ways by which we can express our gratitude for all the blessings we receive from Thee. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY Blessed are those who work together for good and to God's honor and glory.

AT THE ANNUAL MEMBERSHIP TEA of the Orland Park Junior Woman's club held Sunday, Sept. 24 in the home of Mrs. Thomas Gonzales, president for the coming year, shows Mrs. Milton

Westlund (center) member of the club looking on as Mrs. Robert Johnson, past president, serves tea to the new president.

ORLAND PARK WOMAN'S CLUB held a side walk sale last Friday at shopping plaza and those in charge reported the event was quite successful.

Guidance Department At L-W Keeps Busy 'Round The Year

The Lincoln-Way high school guidance department visited a total of 475 homes this past summer in its first home visit project aimed at increasing the communication with the parents about Lincoln-Way's aims, purposes and student possibilities. The home visit project was made possible by a grant under the National Defense Education Act.

The Home Visit Project was under the direction of Mrs. Alice G. Gorman, director of guidance at Lincoln-Way. Al Dalkowski, Jonas Lashmet, and Gene McGivern were the other members of the team. These men also are members of the schools guidance department.

In the evaluation and summary paper presented by the guidance team it was emphasized: "The project was highly successful and very much appreciated by the community." The group stated further that only a partial evaluation of the home visits could be made at this time. The events of this school year will finish the evaluation for them.

All of the counselors felt that they had gained invaluable information and experience from the home visit project. Since learning more about the parents and home environment the counselors are convinced they will do a much better job understanding students' problems.

The general reaction of the 475 homes visited by the Lincoln-Way guidance team was to urge a continuation of the program each summer. Incoming parents were particularly enthusiastic about the program.

A brochure on the Lincoln-Way guidance department was left in the home. The brochure lists the services given the guidance department.

The task of visiting 475 homes was completed in six weeks by the four member team.

Some of the most striking results observed are:

"The feeling that students are interested in getting help from the guidance department; parents have become more concerned with the future plans of their son or daughter; parents are more interested in the progress of their child in the school; parents know more about the guidance services and the over-all program and the objectives of the school."

"During the interview the main concern of the parents seemed to center in two areas. The first was about the progress, future plans and suggestions for their child's improvement. The other area concerned misconceptions and incorrect information received from various sources about Lincoln-Way."

Many areas or misunderstandings were cleared up as an outgrowth of the home visit project. A few of these were restriction on what to wear, bus fees, majors and minors for graduation, course of study, future plans and many others.

The program was started this past year with a letter to parents requesting a time and date for a home conference. The response to the letters was large. Both parents and students were asked to be present and this brought on a problem of more evening conferences than the counselors could hope to fill. If the program is continued next year it is probable that just one parent will be acceptable for the conference.

The group did not visit the home of any student who in any way gave indication that a visit was not preferred.

MOKENA SMALL FRY have good season. This baseball team, under the coaching of Village Clerk Alvin Sorensen not only played well throughout the regular season but in the recent invitational baseball tournament at Thillens Stadium, Chicago, the boys gave a good account of themselves. Special Education Groups Receive Aid From State Payment of $90,787.84 for distribution among Will county schools as reimbursement for education of exceptional children has been approved by George T. Wilkins, state superintendent of public instruction.

Total payment in the state, exclusive of claims from Chicago, comes to $4,344,496.51. These claims are for the period ending June 30, 1961, and are $346,075.02 more than those of the 1959-60 school year.

Will county's share was $774.72 more. Payment to the county for the year ending June 30, 1960, was $90,013.12.

According to Wilkins approximately 100,000 children in the state are being served by the special education program designed to meet the needs of the physically handicapped, maladjusted, educable mentally handicapped, trainable mentally handicapped and speech defectives. He favors further expansion of the program.

Payments are made to county superintendents of these claims and distributed by them to the school districts entitled to reimbursement. No breakdown was given immediately to show the districts' shares.

Club At Palos Plans Addition

(CNS) A $62,000 addition to the Walnut Hills Country Club, 8600 W. 103rd St., Palos Park, has been approved by the Cook county department of building.

Want To Get Lowdown On Fish Life?

(CNS) -- Fisherman, if you want to show the little woman, that big one that got away, take her to the Chicago Natural History Museum on Roosevelt Road at Lake Shore Drive during August.

There you will see an authentic reproduction of underwater life in a typical Chicago-area inland lake - largemouth bass, bluegills, northern pike, bullheads, and many others.

By studying this realistic habitat group located in the Museum's Hall of Fishes on the ground floor, west, fisherman may get a preview of the sport and good eating that await them on their fishing trips.

The Museum's featured exhibit for August also demonstrates that even in a lake "all flesh is grass," since the plants that form the basic food supply for fish and other underwater creatures are nourished, in their turn by decayed animal products. Thus plants and animals are linked in an endless cycle of life, death, and renewed life again. A diagram that forms part of the exhibit shows this

"web of life" in the lake, in which plant eating animals are preyed upon by flesh eaters, and even the most aggressive carnivores, when they die, become food for scavengers.

Here's a fishin' trip that will help you to understand and enjoy your future fishing trips.

A PUBLIC SERVICE OF
ILLINOIS STATE BAR ASSOCIATION
IN COOPERATION WITH THIS NEWSPAPER

(This is another in a series of articles provided as a public service by the Illinois State Bar Association for this newspaper.)

Donald Debtor owed Charlie Creditor $500 for some lumber. Charlie sold him. When Don refused to pay, Charlie threatened to sell Don's house to collect the debt. Don laughed scornfully, and said, "You can't do that."

Maybe Don doesn't realize that Charlie can take his case to court and, after trial, procure a judgment against Don for the amount of the debt.

"So what?" Don asks, "Doesn't that just mean that the judge decided he was right and that I really do owe him $500? If I don't pay, aren't we right back where we started from?"

Unfortunately for Don, Charlie's judgment means much more than that. The moment the judge rendered judgment against Don, something happened to his house and lot. He no longer owned it free and clear of all strings attached, like the day he made the last payment and burned the mortgage. Don's house and lot became subject to what is known as the "lien" of Charlie's judgment.

JUDGMENT LIEN
"But this lien isn't hurting me, is it?" Don asks. "I'm still living in my house; nobody has tried to throw me out, and as far as I'm concerned this 'judgment' and 'lien' you're talking about are just so many words, and as the old saying goes 'sticks and stones...'"

There are two answers to Don's question. What if Don tried to sell or borrow money on his house now? In checking the records, the prospective buyer or lender would discover the judgment lien. No cautious person would purchase or lend with the lien of this judgment on the property. "Lien" and "judgment" would be more than just words to the prospective purchaser or lender, because they will remain as charges against the land even after Don sells the property and leaves. Furthermore, it is true that nobody has tried to turn Don out yet, but look what can happen as a result of Charlie's judgment. SHERIFF'S SALE

Since the judgment was rendered, Charlie is now a "judgment creditor", and according to the law, he may sell Don's house and lot if Don persists in not paying him.

"Ridiculous," Don says, "I'm the only one who owns it, so I'm the only one who can sell it."

But that's where you're wrong, Don. For the law says that the sheriff, who acts as an officer of the court that rendered the judgment, has authority to give a good title to Don's property at a sheriff's sale. And if Charlie takes certain procedural steps, he can have the sheriff sell Don's property in order to pay the judgment.

DON MAY REDEEM
So Charlie can get his money in this way: The sheriff sells Don's property to the highest bidder at a public sale. Out of the money the sheriff gets for the property, he pays Charlie in full, and returns the balance to Don. The buyer at the sale now owns the property, and soon he has as good a title as Don had before the judgment was entered, unless Don takes certain steps to "redeem" the property.

This means Don must go to the buyer and repay him in the full amount paid at the sheriff's sale, and in addition he must pay interest and cost of the sale. In that way Don can get the property back, but it will cost him considerably more to redeem the property than had he paid Charlie in the first place.

We can learn a lesson from Donald Debtor's predicament. Disputed debts are not uncommon, and it is usually good sense to attempt to make a fair adjustment of the claim rather than risk court action and an adverse judgment.

READ REVELATION 22: 8-14
The world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever. (1 John 2: 17.)

I like an illustration concerning time and eternity as told by Dr. Rufus Jones. Traveling across the continent by train, a gentleman talked with a little girl going to a neighboring city. She confided, "I wish we would never reach the old city. I hate to go there." Asked why, she explained, "My mother says it is too bad for me to leave the school where I learned the alphabet for now I'll have to begin all over again."

The gentleman kindly explained that he had been to that city and that they used the very same alphabet there. She could go on from where she had left off.

Dr. Jones said that some things last, and that real values we learn here will not have to be learned all over again in eternity. We will recognize them. Our part is to learn these eternal truths now and cultivate them.

"Porpoises" Get Billing But Dolphins Do The Act

By ROBERTS MANN CONSERVATION EDITOR (Cook Co. Forest Preserve)

Last summer we were privileged to watch the training of four "porpoises" -- Maggie, Vicki, Tommy and Power -- at Brookfield zoo where they now perform daily in the Panorama of Seven Seas. Actually those remarkably intelligent, friendly and fun-loving animals that exuberantly play games and do acrobatic stunts are Bottlenosed Dolphins, called porpoises in Florida.

Porpoises and dolphins, closely related, are members of a group of ocean-dwelling streamlined mammals -- the cetaceans -- that include the whales. Outwardly they resemble fish but, being mammals, they are warm-blooded, bear their young alive -- only one each time -- and suckle them with milk. Cetaceans have lungs and surface periodically to breathe air thru a blowhole (nostril) located on top of the head.

In contrast, fish are cold-blooded and most species lay eggs. A few kinds bear their young alive but cannot suckle them. Except for the few kinds that have lungs, fish obtain oxygen from water passing thru their gills. Most of them have five types of fins including the tail which is set vertically.

A cetacean's forked tail is set horizontally and it has only a dorsal fin, if any. Its flippers are really hands, with fingers, encased in thick "mittens". It is propelled mostly by the tail. Our racing swimmers now combine the butterfly stroke of arms and hands with a "dolphin stroke" of the legs and feet.

Porpoises and dolphins are remarkably fast and graceful swimmers. The cruising speed of a bottlenosed dolphin is from 10 to 12 miles per hour but they have been clocked at 28 for short distances. The skin on a dolphin's body is loose and flexible so that, when swimming, it trips and the friction drag is reduced by as much as 90 percent from that of a tight unyielding surface. Since this was discovered, submarines with their steel hulls encased by loose plastic skins have been enabled to travel at greater speeds.

Scientists cooperating with the U.S. Navy are also studying this dolphin's amazing ability to obtain its favorite food, certain fish, and avoid obstacles such as transparent sheets of glass or plastic, by means of what is known as echo location. It has no "smeller" and no vocal cords but, apparently by means of valves in its blowhole (nasal) passages, makes various sounds. Those audible to us, when they "converse", are staccato clicks and clacks, barks, and catlike mewing noises. However, it also makes supersonic sounds.

This animal is more intelligent than a chimpanzee. Its brain and ears are highly developed. They provide a marvelously accurate mechanism for receiving and interpreting echoes from those supersonic sounds -- bouncing back from a fish or an obstacle -- which, if successfully imitated, would revolutionize our underwater detection devices such as sonar. There are several species of dolphins. Some have blunt rounded heads but in most kinds the jaws are elongated to form a beak. On one they resemble a pair of flat paddles. The bottlenosed dolphin, so common along our Atlantic coast, becomes from 8 to 12 feet long.

Porpoises are smaller and have blunt snouts. The common species, called a "sea pig" in England, inhabits our North Atlantic waters and seldom ventures far from the coasts. From 5 to 8 feet long, it has a conspicuous triangular back fin. The "porpoises" frequently seen gamboling or swimming in long graceful arcs alongside ships at sea, are usually dolphins.

In Florida a "dolphin" is a large swift gamey fish with brilliant hues of blue, olive green and gold. Beware of common names!

Offer First Aid Course

Arrangements are being made to offer the Red Cross standard ten hour First Aid course according to Stanley Ekedahl, New Lenox Civil Defense director and chairman of the New Lenox township Red Cross disaster corp.

One of the fundamentals of home preparedness in case of an enemy attack or natural disaster is being able to take care of your family until help is obtained. If an injury has occurred it will be necessary to administer First Aid treatment which may mean the difference between comfort or pain for the victim or even life or death. At least one adult member of the family should take this training.

For any person living in the New Lenox township area who would like to take the course, call Mr. Ekedahl at HU 5-8330 for further information.

Hints For Homeowners

By: JAMES FIZZEL, Ass't. Farm Adviser

Fertilize newly planted trees carefully to avoid burning the roots. Fertilizer will burn tree roots unless it is mixed with soil in the bottom of the hole. In addition to fertilizer, place in the bottom of the hole a layer of topsoil, a mixture of peat moss or manure and subsoil.

Here are some more suggestions for planting trees:

SELECTION: In selecting trees, remember that those with balled and burlapped roots have a greater chance of surviving than those with bare roots.

DEPTH OF HOLE: Dig the hole several inches deeper than the length of the balled and burlapped roots. If the soil is a hard clay, make the hole extra deep to provide adequate drainage. If the tree roots are wrapped, make a hole one foot wider than the wrapping.

SETTING THE TREE: Place the base of the tree one inch lower than the surrounding ground level. Place it with its good side facing out. Put in a little soil at a time, tamping it carefully to eliminate air pockets. When the hole is two-thirds full of soil fill it with water. After the water soaks in, fill it again with water. Then put in the rest of the soil. Water the tree during the fall to insure good root growth.

PRUNING: To compensate for loss of roots during transplanting, cut the side branches of the tree to one-third of its original width. Never cut the top!

STAKING: Staking prevents movement of the tree that loosens the soil around the roots and creates air pockets. Staking also keeps the tree erect. WRAPPING: Wrap the tree trunk to prevent sunscald. Use a commercially prepared material available at most nurseries.

MULCHING: To help conserve moisture, place a mulch of ground corms two or three inches deep around the base of the tree.

The plants you use around your home ties your house to the ground and provides an attractive setting. Flowering shrubs can be used around your home for beauty and interest, as well as fragrance. By proper selection of plants you can have a succession of bloom from late March until Halloween. Flowering shrubs come in a variety of sizes from very short such as Butterfly bush, to very tall in the case of Japanese tree lilacs which may reach a height of over 30 feet. Other plants are available in all sizes in between.

Many people are familiar with some of the flowering shrubs such as lilacs, forsythia, and honeysuckle. There are many varieties of these tree plants which in themselves can make an impressive display of color in spring.

Add to these the Viburnums, flowering plums, crabapples, dogwoods and hydrangeas and you have a display which would be envied by any homeowner. Consider the flowering shrubs when planting your home surroundings. Many of them have another attractive feature such as brightly colored fruit or fall color. Most of them go nicely with evergreens.

Sues N. Lenox Resident For Car Accident

A $20,000 personal injury suit was instituted in the Will County circuit court last week by the mother of a Joliet girl injured in an auto accident in Pilcher Park, July 21, 1959.

Names defendant in the action was the driver of the car in which Miss Matay was a passenger, James Fetzner, 1111 North Cedar Rd., New Lenox.

Mason Offers Plan For Tax Reduction

For those who would have some relief from the tax load imposed by the federal government -- and that should take in practically everyone -- Congressman Noah M. Mason (R-15th Dist.) offers some suggestions on the subject that merit consideration.

"We need a new tax policy," Mason says, "based on present-day problems and needs and incomes and expenditures--not upon politics and to penalize success."

He proposes to fight for three measures of tax reform:

"1.-Lower income taxes for all individuals, with a top barrier of say 30 to 40 per cent beyond which we shall never go except in the emergency of war.

"2.-Impose an excise tax on the end products of manufacturers to produce a far bigger share of our national revenue than retail excises now bring, this to be done in lieu of present excise taxes.

"3.-Tax the earnings of savings and loan associations, cooperatives, mutual savings banks, credit unions and other mutual companies exactly as the earnings of their proprietary competitors are taxed."

He says that is not all that is needed "but if the 87th congress accomplishes no more than these three items in writing the Internal Revenue Code of 1962, it will bring to our tax system a measure of justice and equality that has been missing for a long, long time."

He points out that the basic tax program relies mostly upon the income tax. The income tax law has been in effect now for 48 years and it is pretty much of a mess.

Back in 1913 there were objections raised to the income tax law. Some farseeing people observed at the time that such a law would breed bureaucratic tyranny and become a financial burden never before experienced. And they were right.

The internal revenue department has become tyrannical and no one will dispute that the tax has become a burden. Since its inception the rates have increased 20 to 90 times for individuals and 52 times for corporations. A congressman who suggested that a ceiling of 10% be placed on the income tax rate was ridiculed. There would be revolution if the tax rate ever reached 10 per cent, he was told. And the strange thing is that those who predicted the American people would revolt if the government ever kicked the income tax rate up to 10 per cent were on the level--they really thought they would.

Mason contends the present laws provide too many loopholes that are used as escape hatches by taxpayers and he would close them off. He also contends that the burden of taxation has become too heavy for everyone, the rich as well as the poor. The man at the foot of the tax ladder is said to have to work two and a half months just to pay Uncle Sam while the man at the top has to work 11 months to meet his tax bill.

Mason points out that the competition between governmental agencies for taxes has become a fierce battle. The state, county, town, municipality and the school district each has its hand out, and in many localities there are many more taxing bodies clamoring for a share of the poor taxpayer's dwindling revenues.

Under Mason's proposal plans would be devised to prevent overlapping and duplication; perhaps real estate would be reserved for local taxing bodies, sales taxes for the state, gasoline taxes for the highways and income and excise taxes for the federal government.

He believes approximately one third of federal taxes should stem from levies against incomes; one third from corporate earnings and one third from excises, tariffs, inheritance and miscellaneous sources.

This year, Mason says, individuals paying income taxes will shoulder 52 per cent of the tax load; corporations will pay 28 per cent and excises provide about 20 per cent.

A reform of the federal tax laws along the lines he has proposed, Mason declares, would enable the government to reduce rates substantially . . . 19 per cent, he says.

Declares Congressman Mason: "For years I have preached from one tax text: We must tax the undertaxed to relieve the burden of the over-taxed."

We believe most everyone will say Amen to that.

Being Orientation night, the evening's program will be turned over to the teachers of the school to acquaint the parents with the materials and study for each grade.

Second grade mothers served a hot luncheon at the Schmulh school yesterday for the children.

Girl Scout Troop 375 of Lincolnwood met Wednesday afternoon at Schmulh school. The girls are planning to offer a nursery service for the Community club meetings being held at Schmulh school each month. They are planning a program of games and stories to keep the children amused while the parents attend meetings.

The girls also made plans for a two day over night campout at Hawthorne Ridge, on Oct. 6 and 7, with their leader, Mrs. Philip Heitman. Troop 121 of New Lenox with its leader, Mrs. James Smoots, will accompany them. The girls also discussed requirements for second class rank.

By GLENN F. LOGAN

"I notice," remarked Jefferson P. Throtlebottom, "that a New York columnist is somewhat exercised over what he claims to be a fact—that more and more women are wearing pants instead of skirts."

Jeff paused to settle his bulk in the most comfortable chair in the office after having disturbed himself by leaning forward to transfer a handful of cigars from the box on my desk to his pockets. Jeff, it should be explained, is a champion free loader who holds all such items as food, drink and tobacco as property in joint tenancy and not tenancy in common. There was a faint aura of bourbon about him and with a cigar going he lolled back, quite content.

"Yes sir," he continued, "this writer appears to be quite stirred over women's predilection for pants. He professes to believe that in time they will wear skirts only on state occasions, such as getting married or being buried."

"I don't believe that he really believes that," Jeff went on. "I think he is just building up a gimmick. He probably figures that a couple of cracks along that line will produce enough letters to lay the foundation for several more columns."

"Women like to look nice, especially before other women, and few women look nice in slacks or shorts. They look like they are getting themselves up for a masquerade or a hard-times party when they turn out in pants."

"If a woman wants to wear pants," Jeff declared, "she should do it in the privacy of her home and keep away from mirrors."

"Oriental women have been wearing pants for centuries. And what happened to them? They were kept under lock and

key. "It is generally believed that the reason for this is that women are looked upon as merchandise in the orient and therefore kept locked away the same as one might guard silver, or gold, or some other valuable property."

"I believe, however," Jeff asserted, "that perhaps this custom was prompted by the aesthetic sense of the oriental men. They wanted to spare one another the sight of women running around town in trousers so they locked them up. And the reason the men sat around drinking tea, or coffee, or what passes for schnapps in oriental lands, until late at night was that they just couldn't face going home and looking at the females of the household garbed in pants."

"I realize," Jeff went on, "that I can speak more freely on this subject than most men because I am not married and furthermore I do not go high-tailing about the streets wearing Bermuda shorts or that tropical, flare type designed for soldiers and engineers who labor in hot countries."

"Naturally men with wives or who are affianced are likely to be more than somewhat circumspect when they air opinions about the appearance of women in slacks and shorts, especially if the women of their choice are addicted to same."

"Let's say that a man is married to a gal on the plump side who makes a habit of wearing slacks in public. Is he going to say, 'For Pete's sake—you look more and more like a busted lounge...Why don't you put on a dress?' Or if she is on the bony side will he say, 'Well, I see you have all the angles.'"

"Is he crazy? Wars have been started with less provocation. And if he is one of those men who stalk about in shorts and makes cracks about women doing the same he not only is looking for trouble, he is rushing to meet it."

"You know—people that live in glass houses etc. Men in shorts can be a very depressing sight, you know. It is like wearing a tail coat. If a man is built right he looks good in tails, and the same may be said of shorts," Jeff paused, reflecting, "And the same goes for

Jeff got out of the chair. "I want to go home before dark," he explained when urged to stick around. "Almost got myself killed the other night. These cars with all the red lights across the rear are dangerous. Was going home the other night when I saw lot of red lights. I thought they were neons marking the door of a new saloon. I started to go in when the darned thing began moving toward me. Gave me quite a turn to see a saloon act like that. I jumped to one side and then saw it was a car. Well, so long, son, be seeing you."

Hearing Problem?

Read what one lady wrote:
Why I like your Hearing Service Plan

1. I have a better quality aid than one I could afford to buy outright. No large investment.
2. All batteries and repairs are included so my aid is right and I'm hearing my best.
3. I don't have to save on batteries by turning it off several times a day—Now I hear all my waking hours.
4. No liability—I just pay a fair rental each month. Just like my telephone service.
5. Extensive hearing tests to make sure you can first benefit from an aid and second to select the right one for you (including the quality precision fitted MAICO aids).

If you don't hear as well as you think you should—you owe it to yourself and your family to investigate this plan.

Come in or telephone for a home appointment. There is no obligation.

Ice Follies Show Will Benefit "Y"

Tickets are now available for the YMCA's "Wednesday evening" Oct. 25 Ice Follies youth benefit at the Chicago Stadium, according to Mrs. R.W. Brinson, chairman of the Palos-Orland YMCA's Ice Follies committee.

Area residents are offered an inexpensive and highly entertaining evening of fun for the entire family. Tickets are $3.00 each and round trip chartered bus fare is 75¢ per person. Buses will run from Orland Park, Palos Heights, Palos Park and Worth. Deadline for bus reservations is Oct. 16. Forty percent of each ticket sold will be retained by the "Y" to assist the various youth activities sponsored by the "Y". Buses will depart from each village at 6:15 p.m. and will return by 11:00 p.m. Even though the benefit falls on a school night, how often during the school year will your children be taken to Chicago for a comparable evening of self education and enjoyment?

Assisting Mrs. Brinson in the distribution of the Ice Follies tickets are: Mrs. L. R. Modder, Palos Heights, Mrs. H. C. Thomsen, Worth, Mrs. Alex Karren, Orland Park, Mrs. W. Goldinger, Palos Heights, Mrs. R.F. West, Palos Park, Mrs. P. Bradford, Palos Park, Miss Barbara Anthony, Palos Park and Mrs. E. Imhoff of Palos Heights.

Ticket applications may be obtained from any of the committee members or the "Y" office in the Jewel Annex in Palos Heights.

U Of I Acquires Farm, To Be Experimental Site

The University of Illinois recently acquired a 160-acre farm from General Services. This farm is located three miles south of Joliet and three miles west of 66A.

This tract of land was given to the University for a northeastern Illinois soils and crops research farm. The operation is to be supervised by the Agronomy department.

The demonstration farm consists primarily of the following soil types: Elliott, Ashkum, and Drummer which are pre-dominant in northeastern Illinois. The field is also design-

Bremen Bests Sandburg In Cross Country

The Bremen varsity cross country team defeated Carl Sandburg on Saturday 21-37. Running the wet, muddy two mile course was rather slow going. M. Thomas of Bremen was the swiftest of the bunch finishing first with a time of 10:50. B. Agnew of Sandburg finished second 33 seconds behind him.

In the frosh-soph race shortened to a mile and a half because of the weather, it was Gary O'Hara of Sandburg crossing the line first and Bremen's Lobell, second.

Order of finish: VARSITY: M. Thomas (B), Agnew (S), W. Thomas (B), Holcomb (B), Franks (S), Slater (B), Sedgewick (S), Stevens (B), Gage (B), Rutt (B), Tolliver (S), Kuh (S), Hunnewell (S), Crosswell (B), Dell (B), Winegarner (B), Kuecher (S).

FROSH-SOPH: O'Hara (S), Lobell (B), Reeves (S), Sedgewick (S), Gage (B), Skoruk (B), Sorrittella (B), Smith (S), Pearson (B).

SCHEDULED

Today, Thursday Sept. 28, Bremen meets Homewood-Flossmoor at home. The Southwest Suburban Conference dual meet starts at 4:30.

Saturday, Sept. 30, the Sandburg harriers travel to run against Rich in a conference dual meet. The Frosh-Soph race between halves of the frosh-soph football game and the varsity teams compete between football games.

Take Part In Safety Tests

Lincoln-Way high school students and faculty members participated in an auto safety demonstration last Thursday arranged by Supt. A. H. Chapman sponsored by the Will County farm bureau.

Two students, Barry Hodge and Orville Jones, and two faculty members, Miss Barbara Federman and Mr. Charles Sarkins drove the car through the various tests with the remainder of the students as spectators.

The car used in the safety demonstration was a 1961 model with a detonator and sound equipment attached. The detonator was used to show the distance traveled while the driver is moving his foot from the accelerator to the brake, and the distance it takes to stop the automobile once the brake is applied.

Showing the distance required to stop a vehicle at various speeds was the primary goal of the demonstration. Being unable to stop a car when driving at excessive speeds is the cause of a large number of accidents.

Begin Night School Course At L-W High

The eighth annual adult education program will open at Lincoln-Way high school (tonight) Thursday, Sept. 28 with registration starting at 6:30 p.m.

Classes will be held from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. every Thursday for the ten weeks of study with a tuition fee of $10 for the entire program.

The largest offering of subjects in the history of the adult education program is expected to draw a record enrollment.

A new feature of the program is the utilization of the entire staff of a department. This should be a great help in presenting a more solid curriculum.

None of the courses are being offered for credit, though L-W students are invited to enroll in any course in which they may be interested.

Lincoln-Way Varsity Eleven In 6-6 Tie With Evergreens

BY PAUL BROWN

Lincoln-Way's varsity football team started its 1962 conference season last weekend with a 6 to 6 tie with Evergreen Park.

The Knights frosh-soph aggregation, however, nosed out the Evergreens, 7 to 6. It is the second win for the Lincolns.

Lincoln-Way opened the season with a non-conference game against Lemont and smothered its opposition. It ran into tough going last weekend against the Mustangs. The Southwest Suburban Conference games this fall, observers believe, will provide many thrills. Certainly the game between the Knights and the Mustangs had exciting moments and statistics show the two teams were fairly evenly matched.

Lincoln - Way drew first blood, scoring early in the opening period when Ron Yunker flipped an 18-yr. pass to Jim Miller. Joe Reinhard went over for what would have been the extra point and the ball game the way things turned out but officials ruled there was illegal motion on the play and the point disallowed.

Evergreen Park did not score until midway in the fourth quarter. They had worked the ball down to the five and there tried to ram a man thru the line. The carried reached the three when he fumbled. The ball popped in to the end zone where the Mustang's Bill Windling plopped on it. The Evergreens tried a quick-opener for their extra point but failed.

In the statistics category it was an evenly matched game. The Mustangs picked up 97 yards rushing compared to 86 for the Knights. However, the Knights picked up 34 yards passing compared to 20 for Evergreen Park.

Two of the outstanding line-men for the Knights in the rain-soaked were Mark Muehler and Ron Badten. Muehler went down on many Knight punts and stopped the receiver for no run-back and also played a very fine game at defensive end. Ron Badten at offensive and defensive guard made many key blocks and recovered a fumble to make it a successful day for him.

The frosh-soph Knights won 7-6 in a real thriller. Evergreen Park scored on the last play of the game and then missed the extra point.

Duplicate Club At Palos Seeks Members

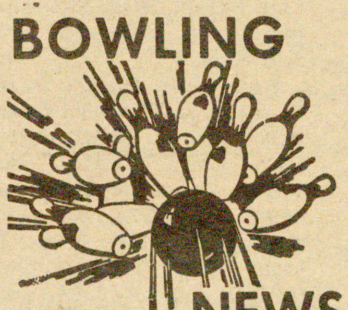

Duplicate bridge is a fascinating game, growing in popularity in every state in the union as well as in other countries. National, international, regional and sectional tournaments are well attended. At the national tournament this year, ex-President Eisenhower was present as a kibitzer for over two hours.

In Palos Park, the game starts promptly at eight o'clock each Wednesday evening at the Palos East School, 7700 West 127th street, with Tom Chamberlain and William Watson in charge. Mrs. Olive Weibel is president and Mrs. Tom Chamberlain is secretary. The matchmaker, Mrs. Harriet Kanter is helpful to anyone desiring to join the club or to any player looking for a partner.

On Sept. 20, the winners in east-west position were Peder Madsen, former champion of Denmark and Mrs. Madsen, of Palos Heights. In the north position Chamberlain and Watson were tied with two other couples.

Mrs. Kanter's phone number is Gibson 8-0614.

Sandburg Gridders Have Good Day At Expense Of Bremen

It was a nice day for the ducks last Saturday but there wasn't a duck around so Carl Sandburg and Bremen Community high schools met on the football playing field using regular players.

When the game was over, and everybody was glad it was, Sandburg, the host team, had beaten their first opponent in the defense of their southwest suburban conference crown 7-0. It was a miserable day for a football game but all the players and some of the spectators stayed around despite the continuous rain to see the only touchdown come in the last quarter of play. It was a handoff from Sandburg quarterback Jim Lavine to his right half Ernie Sharpe who went around right end and scampered along the sideline stripe for 11 yards and payola. Lavine ran the ball across for the extra point.

Water on the field almost as deep as the grass, naturally hampered the offensive attack of both teams. Sandburg's swift backs were able to net only 132 yards by rushing while Bremen was held to 60 yards. Ten times the slippery pigskin got away from the ball carrier. Bremen fumbled six times, recovered twice. Sandburg dropped four and lost it every time, once after a long, hard drive to the Bremen five yard line.

Caution prevailed in the passing department of course, with the Braves Diehl, off a brilliant performance last week against Thornton Fractional South, unable to connect in six attempts. Eagle quarterback Jim Lavine was more fortunate, having three of his 8 water-logged aeriels drop into the arms of receptive Ernie Sharpe. Bremen's Allan Lussow switched to a backfield position and did an admirable job on offense carrying nine times for 42 yards. Teammate Andy Scianna tried 12 times to advance the ball 41 yards.

Defensively Sandburg had it on the Braves as the score would indicate but Bremen played a fine game on defense also. Sterling performances by Braves Brian Paller, Norm Davenport, Fred Cornish, Cliff Cebulski and Al Lussow kept Sandburg's scoring unit in check throughout the game with the exception of one play in the last period. The Eagle standouts on defense were Jim Seymour, Vic Letzow, Mickey Cernick, Al Grossman, Max Wilcoxon and Frank Mellott.

Sandburg, now sporting a 2-0 season record faces a tough test this Saturday when they travel to Park Forest to meet a highly touted and experienced Rich. In their conference opener last Saturday Rich trounced Oak Lawn 20-0. The winner of this one could be the conference champion.

The Braves will be trying for their first win this Friday when they host Homewood-Flossmoor who beat Reavis Friday night 13-7. The game starts at 3:30 p.m.

Neither the weather nor the opposition was a problem to the Sandburg Frosh-Soph as they trampled Bremen 27-0.

The Braves Frosh-Soph team will try to better their 0-2 record when they meet Homewood-Flossmoor on Saturday at 9:30 a.m. at home.

Sandburg takes on the Rich Frosh-Soph at Rich Saturday before the varsity game.

AROUND THE END--Eagle guard Max Wilcoxon skirts the heap with teammate Ernie Sharpe totting the pigskin to chalk up a gain against Bremen. The Braves cost this conference opener 7-0.

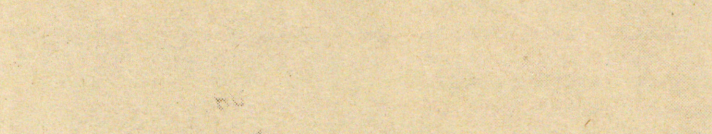

QUIT THAT SPLASHING--Bremen quarterback Tom Diehl eludes Eagle Max Wilcoxon who took a bath instead. That isn't just a puddle Max is landing in, the whole field was that way last Saturday when Sandburg played host to Bremen in their southwest suburban conference opener. Sandburg took it 7-0.

ALL SET SANDBURG quarterback Jim Lavine is set to pass as Tom Richter (56) prepares to block. Ernie Sharpe (60) Eagle halfback, took the short pass and carried it 8 yards before he was brought down.

yards before he is tackled by Eagle defensive back, Ernie Sharpe.

"What's new?"

Business & Finance

BY MAURICE P. ANGLAND

The "discount store" is now receiving considerable attention from trade association magazines, and also analysts of financial aspects of this change in retailing.

A special seminar on discount merchandising is being held early in November by National Retail Merchants Association in New York City. The term "discount store" in the past, has generally been used to designate stores retailing radios, television, stoves and other hard goods at less than usually accepted prices. In many such stores, well known brand name merchandise was handled, but the emphasis was on items whose manufacturers were not so well known.

The present concept of discount store is the development of mass merchandising with self service. The Financial World states that this type of retailing promises to become a new way of life for many prominent retailers. Among those recently entering this field or have stated intentions to do so, are Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea, Lane Bryant, Diana Stores, Allied Stores, Woolworth, and S. S. Kresge.

Well known leaders in what is known as "discount stores" would include Korvette, J. W. Mays Co., Vornado, Holly Stores, Interstate Department Stores, etc. The control of a number of these firms, has been closely held. It seems likely the closely held ownership will change with the expansion and need for additional capital. The present activity and attention being given the field, would indicate advent of merger situations.

The leading discounters are showing much more rapid inventory turn over and sales per square foot of store area, than general in department stores. Some department stores are opening self-service basement stores and also are reducing prices to meet this competition.

These discounters tend to lease rather than own their store facilities. Competition between this is making for more evening shopping and also Sunday store hours. Enforcement of laws regarding such things is becoming strict.

The need for large volume in these stores, has made it possible for some of the smaller retailers to move in close to their bigger neighbor with goods and services not had in the bigger unit and do very well.

It is obvious that the trend to the suburbs and desire for convenient parking and wide merchandise selection, has brought about this change. Difficulty in securing adequate labor supply and the cost of this labor as well as the desire to save, is a big factor in this change. Several months ago the Harvard University Review of Business, predicted the rapid change in retailing.

The United Business Service, a leading investment service, lists business advices of a number of such services. Alexander Hamilton-uptrend should accelerate over the rest of 1961; Babson Reports - brisk uptrend, slowed by summer doldrums, will be resumed; National Securities & Research - fourth quarter of 1961, is expected to witness new high levels for business activity; Prentice Hall - new expansion phase in business promises to be vigorous and prolonged; Standard & Poor's - a continued strong up-trend in activity is indicated. Recovery will broaden out and conditions promise to be boomy by the end of 1962; and United Opinion as interpreted by United Business Service - uptrend will broaden and accelerate this fall. Defense orders will augment strong basic factors.

Roads Petition ICC To Close Englewood Station

(CNS) Hearing on a petition to close the Englewood station at 63rd and LaSalle was continued until September after a railroad official admitted that closing it would leave Chicagoans without a station between the LaSalle St. station downtown and Gary.

The New York Central, Pennsylvania, Rock Island and Nickel Plate railroads are petitioning to close the Englewood station, which has operated at $523,775 deficit in the last three years, according to another witness, Henry J. Koukal, general passenger agent for the Rock Island.

Koukal said the Rock Island's 32 inbound and 30 outbound suburban trains now using the station would continue to stop at a shelter there which is heated and lighted but has no toilets, water or phones.

The New York Central, however, would end its Englewood stops altogether, Bone said. The railroad has only 16 trains a day stopping at Englewood, he said, compared with 80 a day in 1925. The falloff in passenger business is the principal reason the railroads want to close down unprofitable operations such as Englewood Station, he said.

Bone said his office had canvassed 40 business firms in the area and found no objections to the closing, although an attorney opposing the petition pointed out passengers now would have to travel downtown at extra expense to board trains and pick up tickets.

Other opponents, including area businessmen and the railroad brotherhoods, are expected to be heard from in September.
